With its natural landscape and unspoilt coastline, it is obvious why golf in Devon is so popular. The region is an iconic golf tour hot-spot featuring plenty of courses that appear in the Top 100 with first class facilities to match.

Benefitting from the warm climate, south Devon is a much sought-after destination for all golf enthusiasts with a huge list of golf courses to enjoy; some played on the sea front with a links-style to them and, others played inland, set within the luscious green countryside that the region offers in abundance.

The south coast's cliffs and sandy shores offer splendid views from many of the golf courses as they meander through the region's valleys and lowlands.

With so many courses to excite, challenge and reward, organisers are able to combine different styles and challenges to create the perfect break – it's a golfer's dream!
